

Graduate Certificate in
The Neuroscience of Leadership

The NeuroLeadership Institute, in partnership with Results Coaching Systems, is excited to announce the first ever offering of a Graduate Certificate in the Neuroscience of Leadership.

This program is designed to give change-agents new insights and tools to drive change. Participants will include consultants, professionals in the field of HR, Learning, Organizational Development, Leaders and Coaches.

The program is led by Dr Dan Radecki and involves a host of guest professors who are leaders in their field, including Amy Arnsten Ph.D., Mark Beeman, Ph.D., Lila Davachi Ph.D, Kevin Ochsner Ph.D., Yi-Yuan Tang Ph.D., and others. The program is delivered using Results Coaching Systems' 12 years of experience at high impact virtual education with David Rock overseeing the architecture of the program.

Accreditation for the program is underway with Middlesex University*, so that participants will receive formal academic credits for participation.

Based on the level of interest in this course, there are plans to run a pilot in September this year.

To find out more download the attached program pdf.

We are looking for people to give feedback about their interest in this program to get a sense of the demand, click here to fill in a quick form.

**The program will go ahead contingent on successful accreditation with Middlesex*

Kind regards

Leonie Hull

Operations Director

NeuroLeadership Institute

Phone: +61 2 9300 9878 | Mobile: +61 (0) 403 777 780 |

Email: leehull@neuroleadership.org, info@neuroleadership.org

<http://www.neuroleadership.org>